

Name _____	Surname(s) _____
Year and group _____	Date _____	Grade _____

1 Are the following sentences true (T) or false (F):

- The common vegetation in deciduous forests is holm oak and cork oak trees.
- Drought especially affects the Spanish Cantabrian coast.
- The Picos de Europa, Doñana and Garajonay are some of Spain's national parks.

2 Draw arrows to match the vegetation and fauna with the type of climate.

Laurisilva
Fox
Mountain goat
Cork tree
Beech tree
Rabbit

Oceanic climate
Mediterranean climate
Subtropical climate
Alpine climate

3 Choose the correct answer.

a) The rivers of the Cantabrian vertiente:

- are long and the flow is irregular.
- are short and the flow is irregular.
- are short and the flow is regular.

b) The Mediterranean inland climate has:

- warm temperatures all year round and scarce rainfall.
- mild winters, hot summers and abundant rainfall.
- cold winters, hot summers and scarce rainfall.

4 Locate these places on the map of Spain.

- a) The mountains surrounding the Meseta.
- b) The rivers of the Mediterranean vertiente.
- c) The Ebro and Guadalquivir river valleys.

Answers

- 1 ■ False. The vegetation in deciduous forests is beech trees, oak, moorland and grassland.
 ■ False. Drought especially affects the southern and eastern part of the Iberian Peninsula.
 ■ True.

- 3 a) The rivers of the Cantabrian vertiente are short and the flow is regular.
b) The Mediterranean inland climate has cold winters, hot summers and scarce rainfall.
- 4 Check the answers on the maps in section 1 of the Student's Book.